DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 7, 10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sato et al. US # 5,811,948.

With respect to claims 7 and 10 Sato et al. disclose a control apparatus for electric motor, wherein Fig. 7 depicts:

- A power supply voltage to a motor 10 via battery 2
- The electric motor 10 that is controlled by PWM signal via a transistor switching element 12 based on PWM signal output of control unit 14. Wherein the duty factor of the generated PWM signal depends on the command signal;
- An LC filter provided in the power feed line for blocking propagation of switching noise from the switching element toward the dc power supply, (see col. 2, lines 2-6). The low pass filter presented in Fig. 7 in form of coil L1 and group of capacitors C0, C1, C2;
- The voltage frequencies are affected by overshoot of the flywheel diode D1. The overshoot causes voltage ripples in the power feed line between the dc power supply and the motor. The suppression of ripples or in other words modification of the ripple frequency is provided via filter and pulse width modification of on-to-off or off-to-on state of switching element 12, (see col. 6, lines 25—67, col. 7, lines 1-40).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 8, 9, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sato et al. US # 5,811,948 and Warmbier et al. US # 4,236,102.

The limitations of base claims 1 and 10 have been discussed in the rejection above. Sato et al. do not teach not to exceed maximum permissible power dissipation. However in Warmbier et al. since the transistor T1 of the switch amplifier is either completely open or completely closed, no power losses are produced there. Similarly the conversion of the amplified PWM output signal of the transistor T1 into a corresponding direct voltage signal at the output of the low-pass filter is loss-free insofar as the components of the low-pass filter Dr, C1 are loss-free.

Hence, it has been obvious to one of ordinary skills in the art, at the time invention was made to combine Warmbier et al. observation regarding magnitude of losses generated due to the state of transistor switch with Sato et al. teaching on PWM control of motor supply to control transistor switch in such a manner to maintain completely open or completely closed state of the switch.

The reason is the reduction of rate of heat that is generated in switching element.
